Compressor Damage - Soft

Soft material getting into the inlet will damage the compressor blades as shown. The damage to this blade was caused by a shop towel being left in the intake system.

Compressor Damage - Hard

Hard material such as a nut, wire, wrench or bolt getting into the inlet will damage the compressor blades as shown. The compressor housing will be marked by the bits of foreign material. If damage to blades is so extensive that wheel balance is destroyed, some wheel-to-housing contact damage may also be present.
